"CarePatrol went above and beyond what I expected and needed... They spent a lot of unhurried time on the phone with me explaining things and providing personalized suggestions."
-Dean K.

"Even though she is an expert in assisted living, she never pushed us in one direction or the other, which I really appreciated. Wendy not only knows her stuff, she has a good heart."
-Lisa L.

"CarePatrol is extremely knowledgeable...Wendy is proactive, patient, empathetic, and operates with a calm demeanor, which is super helpful in often stressful and time-sensitive situations."

Let Us Take the Pressure Off

Our process includes:

- Ensuring personal preferences, budget, medical needs, and care requirements can be met by the options considered
- Personally pre-screening providers and reviewing state inspection reports
- Helping navigate complicated family dynamics
- Scheduling and accompanying on tours to ensure the right questions get asked
- Collaborating with social workers and case managers for smooth discharges
- Following up to ensure needs are met even when health conditions change

We can also recommend pre-screened elder law attorneys, movers, organizers, experts in veterans' benefits, house call physicians, and more.

Your Questions Answered Patiently by Local Experts

Our senior advisors develop deep local knowledge by visiting communities and meeting with professionals regularly. They have up-to-the-minute data on availability, pricing, care levels, and services offered.

Typical questions include:

- How can I tell if my loved one needs a nursing home, assisted living or memory care?
- How does the cost of in-home care compare to assisted living?
- Which places have the best caregivers and what kind of training do they undergo?
- What are the options for someone who is independent? Are there alternatives to a CCRC or buy-in?
- Do communities accept MassHealth or offer other financial assistance?
